TOOK SOME NERVE

Ira Guy, sub-agent for the Standard Oil Company, at Brooksville, after spending the day with his family in Germantown on Sunday, found it impossible to get to Brooksville on Monday morning, by automobile or horse and buggy, walked through the drifted snow, with the thermometer at 10 below zero. It took four hours to make the trip of 6 1/2 miles. On February 13, 1899, Mr. Guy carried the S. mail from Milford to Augusta return a distance of 40 miles in the thermometer registering 38 low zero.

Bernard, the four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Milton, fell at his home on Forest avenue in the Fifth Ward last night and struck his forehead against the square end of a rocking chair, cutting an ugly gash.

SEPARATE PEACE NEGOTIATIONS

New On With Slaves—Berlin Asserts Armistice Is Signed and Russian Army Is Being Demobilized—Bolshevik Power Waning and Masses Are Eager to Continue the War.

Copenhagen, December 12 — The semi-official German news agency says demobilization of the Russian forces already has begun and that peace negotiations, restricted to the Russian front, have been authorized.

The news agency's dispatch says that Gen. Oberbachoff has been appointed commander-in-chief, "with the assistance of the Allies" (Teutonic!), and that he has been authorized to open peace negotiations with Germany.

No word has been received from Russia of any definite movement for a separate peace, the professor of the Bolshevik being a general cessation of hostilities. Recently, however, the Bolshevik leaders have intimated that if the Entente Governments did not participate in the armistice negotiations with the Germans a separate peace might result.

There has been no announcement from Russian sources of any change in the chief command of the armies since the appointment by the Bolshevik of Emsign Krylenko to intimate the armistice negotiations. The officer referred to as the new commander may be Lieut. Gen. Oberbachoff, who has been commander of the Russian forces in Rumania.

Jassy, Rumania, Monday, December 10—Official announcement was made today of the signing of an armistice in accordance with which hostilities were suspended at 10:30 p. m. yesterday until further notice.

Bolshevik power in Petrograd is being menaced more seriously as the opposition becomes solidified. There is unrest in Petrograd and Moscow, the extremist strongholds, and the Cossacks already have advanced from the Don northward. Russian officials in London assert that the anti-Bolshevik forces are composed not only of the Cossacks, but also of the leaders of the other political parties in Russia.

The political leaders opposed to the extremists, expect that their military forces will be able to depose the Bolshevik soon and that by spring they will have a formidable fighting force to meet the Germans. The whole force of 400,000 Cossacks, it is said in London, where direct communication has been established with Gen. Kaledines, will back the counter revolution. It is planned to solidify the local fighting forces, eliminate the Bolshevik from Southern Russia and establish a new fighting front to keep the Germans out of the Russian grain and coal and mineral fields.

CONGRESS BEGINS PROBE

Into Conduct of War—Major General Crozier Says One Obstacle in Early Work Was Crowding Into Twelve Months Program Contemplated to Cover Five.

Washington, December 12—Inquiry by Congress into the general conduct of the war was begun today with investigation by the Senate military committee of the War department's work in arming and equipping the American forces.

Major General Crozier, chief of ordnance, said an obstacle in the early work was that the military policy defined in the national defense act of 1916, contemplated a force of one million men to be raised in five years.

"It is apparent," he said, "that the original program for one million men did not contemplating our participation in the war. We compressed the five-year program into one year when it immediately became apparent that the one million program would not do."

Preparation of estimates and actual appropriations by Congress, the general said, caused further delay.

"We did everything we could," he continued, "to get the manufacturing establishments of the country going on orders in anticipation of appropriations. The obstacle was that many manufacturers did not care to spend money or could not secure loans in advance of actual appropriations."

That caused very considerable delay. There also were delays under the abnormal purchasing system necessary, without time for competitive bidding, in some cases.

Referring to the "cost plus ten percent" contracts, General Crozier said, the system had "worked out fairly well."

"But it is not as good as when prices are definitely fixed," he said. "It is better to use that only in case of emergency."

"Some manufacturers would not take fixed price contracts at all," General Crozier said. "They would not take the risk except with a profit on a percentage basis."

PLENTY OF COAL HERE

A complete survey of the coal situation in Mason county was announced as having been completed by the Mason County Fuel Commission yesterday. The commission announced that the coal dealers of Maysville and the county now had on hand from eleven to twelve thousand bushels of coal and that about eighteen thousand bushels were on the way from the mines.

The price of coal as fixed by the local commission will be announced as soon as approved by the State Administrator, which is expected to be today.

Mary Pickford's Picture

Mary Pickford's picture, "The Little Princess", from the story by Frances Hodgson Burnett, which will be seen at the Washington on Friday, February 14, is a reminder that Christmas is coming and that the well known shopping for the children must soon commence. Christmas trees, roast turkeys, presents, dolls and candy figure prominently in the incidents of the picture. When the Christmas tree is decorated in Miss Minchin's London boarding school, Mary Pickford as Sara Crewe is enacting the humble role of maid-of-all-work at the establishment, having been relegated to that position from that of one of the well cared for pupils when her father died and left her penniless. The story turns out all right. Children 10c, 1c war tax. Adults 15c and 2c war tax.

ROSS JOINS COURIER-JOURNAL WILL MERGE EFFORTS FOR CAMP ZACHARY TAYLOR CHRISTMAS

The Red Cross has joined hands with the Louisville Courier-Journal Camp Zachary Taylor Christmas Cheer Club in its work of providing gifts for the boys in khaki at Camp Zachary Taylor.

James R. Garfield, manager of the Lake Division of the Red Cross, visited Louisville and after a conference with Mr. Watterson, editor of the Courier-Journal, issued an official order to Red Cross chapters in the Lake Division to send their contributions to the Courier-Journal Camp Zachary Taylor Christmas Cheer Club, which will act jointly with the Louisville Chapter of the Red Cross and the officers at Camp Zachary Taylor in the distribution of gifts.

Mr. Garfield in his official order states that he finds "that all expense connected with the Courier-Journal's campaign for funds, the collection of gifts, the erection of trees and the distribution of gifts among the soldiers is being borne by the Courier-Journal and every dollar collected will go directly to the benefit of the soldiers."

In addition to the official announcement, Mr. Garfield sent a personal letter of thanks to Mr. Watterson congratulating the editor and his newspaper on their worthy undertaking. Mr. Garfield adds: "I return to division headquarters at Cleveland with the firm conviction that all 'our boys' stationed at the Louisville camp will have a most glorious Christmas celebration."

In closing his letter Mr. Garfield says Mr. Watterson the following unique compliment: "In addition to being Marse Henry, you are now our official and personal Santa Claus."

Women will have a prominent part in the proceedings of the American Prison Congress which is soon to meet in New Orleans.

SLAUGHTER IN '64 AND '67 IN COMPARISON LOSS OF LIFE IN WAR IS STEADILY DECREASING

In comparison to the number of men engaged the loss of life in war is steadily decreasing.

In the former days every man in the army carried a gun, except a few wagon drivers. Now there are three or four men in the rear for every man under fire.

It takes an enormous number of men to feed a battery of six-inch guns in addition to those directly working the guns.

The instruments of war are so destructive that neither adversary dares fight in the open, therefore it is a matter of fencing and counter-fencing.

Where there is exposure there is great loss of life.

In some of the Roman wars whole armies were absolutely cut to pieces. In the Battle of Cannae there was little left of the Roman army engaged. Crassus, in the East, lost an army and his life.

The Germans once blotted out an Imperial Roman army.

Later, in the middle ages, when men wore armor, the loss of life was comparatively small in some wars.

When an army went out to meet another army both wore armors. In the middle-age Italian wars the loss of life was amazingly small.

In the early rush of the Civil War there was great loss of life compared to the number of men engaged.

In 1863, except at Gettysburg and Chickamauga, the loss of life was somewhat reduced. In 1864, when Grant started to Richmond, the loss of life was so great that the country was appalled.

Some of the pacifists wanted Lincoln to abandon the whole business. Grant's army in '64 was well trained and Lee's army was unexcelled by any that was ever got together.

Both Confederates and Federals in '64 marched steadily under fire and counted loss of life as an incident.

In '64 Franklin was the bloodiest pitched battle fought, compared to the number of men engaged. But in '64 if each army had been equipped with machine guns and quick-firing rifles trench warfare would have been introduced.

During the past few months Mrs. Josephus Daniels, wife of the Secretary of the Navy, has delivered more than one hundred public addresses in behalf of the various movements looking to the successful prosecution of the war.

Many co-eds of the University of Wisconsin are reducing their college expenses by living in co-operative houses and doing their own housework.

The Women's Board of Missions of the Congregational Church is to hold an elaborate celebration of its golden jubilee in Boston this week.

BIG DEAL

Pulled By President Weeghman, of Chicago Cubs, When He Purchased Alexander and Kilfler, Moran's Great Battery.

New York, December 11—One of the biggest deals in the history of baseball was the culminating feature of today's session of the annual meeting of the National League. Grover Cleveland Alexander, the star pitcher of the Philadelphia Nationals, and his battery mate, William Kilfler, were sold to the Chicago National League Club. Alexander has only one rival among baseball pitchers, Walter Johnson, of the Washington Americans. Kilfler is rated among the best catchers in baseball and did more actual work than any other catcher in baseball last season.

Neither President Weeghman, of Chicago, nor President Baker, of the Philadelphia club, would name the purchase price, though Weeghman said it was the biggest price ever paid for two big league players. The figures were estimated between $50,000 and $60,000. The Chicago club threw in Pitcher Mike Prendergast and Catcher Dihoefer to clinch the deal.

President Weeghman was elated over the deal. "It is the first move in putting the Cubs back into the race," he said. "We want to give the Cubs some of the prestige they had in their former years, and, if possible, we will put over some more deals like it."

Baker excused the deal on the grounds that it was strictly a business affair. He said that while Alexander still was a great pitcher, he was slipping a little and was no longer the pitcher he was two years ago. He also said that during these war times the Philadelphia Club did not feel it was able to carry any $12,000 salaried players on its payroll. As for Kilfler, he said that player had informed him last fall he would not play for the Philadelphia Club again, and that, it was necessary to get rid of him.

VINOL MAKES GOOD BLOOD
Positive—Convincing Proof
Many so-called remedies for anemia are only so in name. Their makers are afraid to prove their claims by telling what their medicines contain. The only way to be honest with the people is to let them know what they are paying for. Here is the Vinol formula. When the doctor knows what a medicine contains, it ceases to be a "patent" medicine.
It Contains Liver and Beef Peptones, Iron and Manganese Peptones, Iron and Manganese Citrate, Lime and Soda Glycophosphates, Casein.
Any doctor will tell you that the ingredients of Vinol, as named above, will enrich the blood and banish anemia and create strength. When the blood is pure and rich and red, the body is strong and robust.
You can prove this at our expense because your money will be returned if Vinol does not improve your health.
